CHAIR SOUGHT FOR ANNUAL PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SYMPOSIUM

The Southern Tier Engineering Symposium Planning Committee is looking for an engineer or EIT, from any engineering discipline, to serve as the Committee Chairperson for the 2021 Engineering Symposium, typically held in October. If you would like to share the responsibility with another person, it is possible to have two individuals co-chair this event. The current committee does a great job of acquiring presenters and accrediting any necessary courses. The Committee Chair is largely responsible for managing the process, the timeline and to a smaller extent the event location.

If interested, please reach out to me, Sallie Valentine, with any questions (svalentine@delta-eas.com). Kristy Scales has chaired the symposium committee the last few years, pre-covid, and is also a good person to contact with questions.

PROFESSIONALS PANEL DISCUSSION HELD FOR CORNELL STUDENTS

This Zoom discussion was held on May 11, 2021 with Cornell University students that provided attendees career advice and workplace experiences from a diverse panel. Panelists were John Albertson, Professor of CEE at Cornell who has practiced structural engineering, Bobby Plybon, environmental engineer at EKI Environmental & Water, Inc., and Kelly Sullivan, Senior Project Manager at Bergmann with a background in energy. About a dozen students attended this hour-long session, which included a Q&A component.

OPEN LEADERSHIP POSITIONS

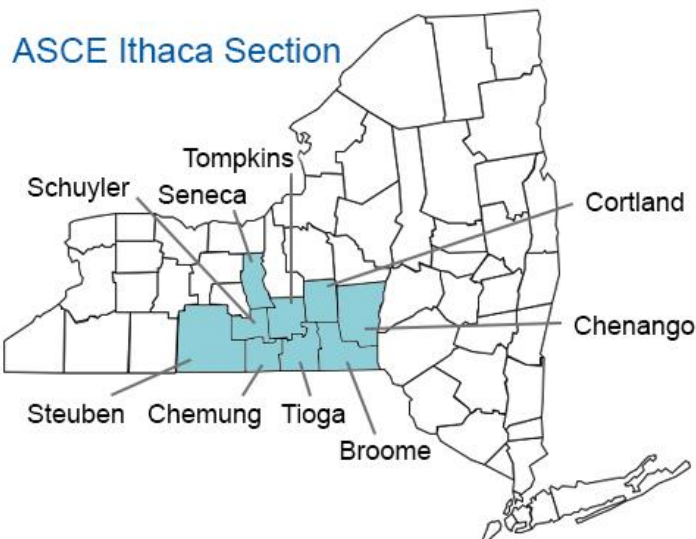

We have several open positions. If interested in serving as an officer or committee chair, please contact us at ASCE.Ithaca@gmail.com.
